

Stacking the Deck: Play the LIFE Card

Instructor:
Cecil Bullard

You've spent years learning how to fix cars, build businesses, lead people and take care of everyone else. But when was the last time you stopped and took an honest look at the life you're building along the way?

- Taking an honest look at the hand life has dealt you
- Learning from success, failure, relationships, loss and second chances
- Recognizing what you can control and letting go of what you can't
- Understanding how your choices shape the life you're building
- Defining success beyond business, money and achievement
- Using the LIFE Card to intentionally play the hand you have

You don't get to choose every card life deals you, but you do get to decide how you play the hand.
